installation will not incur a new term or minimum service period. However, a new term would commence for changes where a new physical installation is required.

4 Service Provider obligations

21. Commencement of Service: The service shall commence from the date of activation of service.
22. Responsibility for service: Ooredoo is responsible for service only up to the Customer Premises Equipment and shall not be responsible for any quality of service, continuity of service or other matters impacted by subscriber cabling, equipment or other facilities (not provided by Ooredoo) beyond this point.
23. Service Provisioning Time: If the customer location is feasible from a network perspective, Ooredoo endeavor to provision the services within a lead time of 4-6 week from the date of release of Purchase Order.
24. Service availability and limits: Certain factors, such as network changes, traffic volume, transmission limits, service outages, technical limitations, signal strength, customer device, terrain, structures, weather, or other conditions that may arise from time to time, may interfere with actual service quality and availability. IP VPN service may not be available in the subscriber's area, their specific location.
25. Allocation and Access: In conjunction with the operator of the Distant Terminal Ooredoo shall allocate and reserve for the exclusive use of the Subscriber the Circuit for two-way transmission between Doha and the Destination Point according to the mode of usage and for the hours and period stated in the Service Level Agreement.
26. Discontinuation: Ooredoo reserves the right to discontinue the circuit temporarily or permanently if the use of the circuit, in Ooredoo's reasonable judgment, is causing or is likely to cause substantial impairment to Ooredoo's regular public services and in any such case Ooredoo shall give the Subscriber the maximum length of notice, practicable in the prevailing circumstances, of any intended discontinuation of the circuit under this clause. No rental shall be paid for the period of such discontinuation.
27. Ooredoo may need to discontinue service for a variety of reasons, such as maintenance, circuit interruptions or in the event of an emergency when capacity in the cable is reduced for any reason, such as cable failure, and private circuits are required to be re-used to convey priority emergency traffic.

5 Subscriber obligations

Ooredoo Service Tariff No. B12-01

28. Minimum service period: The service will be provided for a minimum service period of three (3) months from the date of activation.
29. Cancellation: If a Subscriber terminates the contract before the end of the minimum service period term, the Subscriber will be liable to pay the full charges for duration for the minimum service period.
30. Equipment: Importation of suitable, type-approved equipment may be undertaken following approval by Ooredoo.
31. Resale: The Subscriber cannot resell the service if (s)he does not qualify as an Eligible Person, within the framework set by the Class License for the Resale of Retail Telecommunications Services issued by the Communication Regulatory Authority (CRA) (<https://www.cra.gov.qa/en/document/class-license-for-the-resale-of-retail/telecommunications-services>) and without a prior written approval by Ooredoo. Failure comply with the above provision will result in the Services being immediately terminated and in the Subscriber being held responsible for the legal, regulatory and financial consequences of his/her behavior.
32. Connection to the circuit:
 - 32.1 The Connection of the circuit at the Ooredoo terminal shall be restricted to CRA type-approved equipment and devices and to such internal networking as Ooredoo, prior to any connection, may approve in writing.
 - 32.2 Connection to public switched telephone network is strictly prohibited.
 - 32.3 The subscriber shall comply with any reasonable request by Ooredoo concerning the configuration of the subscriber's data devices and/or the use of the service.
 - 32.4 The Subscriber hereby undertakes not to connect or permit to be connected to any Terminal of the circuit any equipment, apparatus or device which causes or is likely to cause damage to or interference with the circuit or any terminal thereof and to allow access to the Subscriber's premises as agreed with the Subscriber by a duly authorized representative of Ooredoo for the purpose of inspecting the equipment, apparatus and devices therein in connection with the Services provided to the Subscriber.
33. Use of the circuit: The Subscriber shall use the circuit only for purposes strictly relating in all respects to its business and in particular the Subscriber shall not use or allow the use of the circuit to provide unlicensed telecommunications services or for any other unlawful activity. Under The Telecommunications Act of 2006, CRA is responsible for determining the
